Challenges

- Reduce extensive amount of paper processing.
- Improve management of engineering drawings to ensure use of up-to-date versions.
- Boost engineering and shop floor process efficiency and reduce overall costs.

Benefits

- Created a single real-time data source for engineering information, eliminating errors in use of drawing versions.
- Significantly reduced amount of paper printing, copying, and scanning.
- Achieved significant cost savings through reduced paper processing.
- Reduced time to find all quality control documentation.
- Streamlined processes that improved productivity and efficiency.

"During migration to the current Infor SyteLine version, we had dozens of forms and hundreds of custom reports that needed repurposing. Infor's reliable, prompt support and backup documentation made the process much smoother."
