8 Reasons Why Fact-Trak™ for SyteLine is the Right Solution for You

The Lake Companies designed Fact-Trak to fill the needs of single to multi-site manufacturers, providing unique visibility to match a company's demand for concise information. Fact-Trak is a comprehensive tool providing easy-to-use, intuitive analysis of business critical data.

1. Real-time information

Fact-Trak processes up-to-the-minute data from the SyteLine database, yet does so in a way as not to impact the performance of SyteLine users.

2. Utilizes own database, so does not impact SyteLine performance

The Analytics database is separate from the SyteLine database. This allows performance to remain high by off-loading the related analysis, reporting, lookups, etc. from the SyteLine database.

3. Single- or multi-site

Fact-Trak supports single- and multi-site implementations, allowing you to combine or separate information from different databases.

4. No additional SyteLine license necessary

Since Fact-Trak is outside the SyteLine database, there is no need to have a SyteLine license to perform analysis. This works great for the many people who want to look-up or analyze information, but never need to use SyteLine.

5. Uses applications you already own

Because Fact-Trak uses Microsoft SQL Server®, Microsoft Analysis Services® and Microsoft Excel®, which are applications you already own, your major investments are already made. You can even leverage Microsoft Power BI, which is far superior to using third party databases requiring investment, administrative training and support, all of which dramatically increase the cost of ownership.

6. Licensing by site

Fact-Trak licensing enables you to provide access to as many users as you wish. This actually lowers the cost on a per user basis, which is far superior to licensing by user.

7. Answer your own questions faster

You can get your own detail and answer your own questions. No programmers, no delays.

8. Paperless analysis

As with Doc-Trak and Shop-Trak, Fact-Trak gives you the ready access and ability to analyze information without the need for paper-based reports. Further, it does this without requiring anyone to create or modify reports in applications like Crystal Reports and SQL Server Reporting Services (SSRS). Information is available in a simple drag-and-drop format.
